

This Singer sewing machine is a lot like the one we have on display at our museum. This would be used by families at home to make all sorts of clothing items and mend these items as they became worn out.